On the ball with the Manager

We go into today's match against Queens Park Rangers knowing that the result is vital to both clubs.

If we win, it could mean that we have established ourselves in the First Division for another season at least and if Rangers lose, it could put them on the way down.

The long lay off seems to have done our players some good since we have taken seven points out of the last week as we have climbed away from trouble.

And what a game that was against Everton on Tuesday night! They had a superb first half and it was not until the second half we changed our tactics and came good to win 3-1.

I must confess I didn't see the penalty that gave Everton their goal but from what I am told it seemed fair enough. It was good to see Willie Morgan and Neil Whatmore score their second goals of the season and Paul Jones came along with his first Division One goal to get the third at just the right time.

Paul scored lots of goals in the Second Division from corners by being physically strong and getting in a glancing header which I believe just can't be stopped.

But to be fair to Everton they had us rocking in that first half and could well have been three up at half time.

Stan Anderson and I told our players to play them in their own half after the interval which we did and everything came out all right.

I must pay tribute to Peter Nicholson who played Dave Thomas right out of the game. He has had an outstanding season and when you consider the number of sides with very good left wingers, that can't be bad.

So now we take on QPR before embarking on our Easter programme which starts at Manchester United on Wednesday night - another game which should be a real thriller.

Welcome to...

Now that Birmingham and Chelsea seem almost certainly doomed to a spell of Second Division football, Queen's Park Rangers are battling desperately to avoid filling the third relegation spot. Having played more games than most of their rivals, it's touch and go whether they will be able to avoid the drop.

Manager Steve Burtenshaw, after being frustrated in several earlier bids to sign new players, pulled off an exceptional deal on the eve of the recent transfer deadline when signing Republic of Ireland international striker Mick Walsh from Everton.

Mick had suffered injuries soon after joining Everton from Blackpool last summer and things were not looking too hopeful for him at Goodison Park. So he was happy to join Rangers in a straight swop for forward Peter Eastoe.

Walsh will probably form an all-Irish partnership as spearhead of the attack with Paul McGee.

The Rangers' manager had had money available for new signings ever since the club sold Phil Parkes to West Ham and made him the world's most expensive goalkeeper at £565,000. It was a move taken without the manager's agreement and he was obviously upset at the time. "But now it's done we must just get on with the job of trying to avoid relegation," he shrugged.

Derek Richardson has now taken over in goal and he usually plays behind a back four of David Clement, Ernie Howe, Glen Roeder and Ian Gillard.

John Hollins, Gerry Francis, Stan Bowles, Don Shanks, Martyn Busby and Clive Allen have all played in midfield whilst Paul McGee and Paul Goddard will now be joined by newcomer Walsh in the attack.

Before Steve Burtenshaw took over from Frank Sibley as Rangers' manager shortly before this season kicked-off, many critics had already doomed Rangers to relegation and those prophets of doom were rubbing their hands when the club picked up only one point from their opening five League games.

After that, things began to look a little more hopeful but there have been subsequent long runs without success and Rangers have been living in the shadow of relegation all season.

They took an early exit in the F.A. Cup when they lost 0-2 to one of their closest neighbours, Fulham, in the third round. In the League Cup they survived two rounds when beating Preston (3-1 away) and Swansea (2-0 at home), but then lost 0-2 at home to Leeds United.

Today's game is of vital importance to Rangers for we are one of the clubs who would be in danger if their revival comes. Derby and Wolves are their other chief targets.

They have won two away games so far — at Middlesbrough (2-0) and Chelsea (3-1), that latter success last month giving them real hope of pulling clear. Rangers collected single points from Southampton (1-1), Nottingham Forest (0-0) and Norwich (1-1) but were beaten on all their other away trips to Liverpool (1-2), Arsenal (1-5), Wolves (0-1), Ipswich (1-2), Derby (1-2), Coventry (0-1), Manchester United (0-2), Everton (1-2), Birmingham (1-3), Aston Villa (1-3) and West Bromwich (1-2).

Queens Park Rangers

Looking at Rangers' present precarious position, it's difficult to realise that it is less than three years since they were pipped to the League Championship by Liverpool by only one point. Last season, in direct contrast, they were — like now — in relegation trouble for most of the time but pulled clear in the end.

Several of the club's best players left the club after their close title miss. Don Givens, Don Masson, Leighton James and David Webb among them. Then, last summer, manager Frank Sibley left, too.

So Mr. Burtenshaw faced a difficult task. Of course, pulling out of the bottom three positions is still his primary objective. But things could have been worse. "Some people were saying we wouldn't get a point by Christmas!" he smiled.

"But here we are late in the season and we still have the chance to escape the drop."

DEREK RICHARDSON (Goalkeeper). The recent departure of Phil Parkes to West Ham gave Derek a well-earned chance to get a regular game in Rangers' First Division side. He was once with Chelsea but didn't get into the first-team and was given a free-transfer in 1976. Rangers signed him immediately and he had made just over a dozen senior appearances before this season.

DAVID CLEMENT (Defender). David missed many games earlier this season due to injury. But apart from such enforced absences, he has been in the Rangers' side since his debut in 1967 when they were in the Third Division. After winning England youth caps, David was capped five times by the full England team.

ERNIE HOWE (Defender). Once a Crystal Palace amateur, Ernie turned professional with Fulham and made his League bow for the Cottagers in 1973/74. Q.P.R. signed him last season for £50,000.

IAN GILLARD (Defender). Ian was introduced to the Rangers' side in 1968/69 and later won five England under-23 caps. Ian has also played for the full England team on four occasions.

STAN BOWLES (Midfield). Stan plays a deeper game these days and doesn't score so many goals. He was once a Manchester City player and, when they released him in 1970 he joined Bury on loan and then signed for Crewe. Carlisle signed him for £12,000 in 1971 and he became a top scorer with them. A year later they sold him to Q.P.R. for £110,000 and he now has five England caps.

JOHN HOLLINS (Midfield). John made his name with Chelsea, gaining England youth honours and 12 England under-23 caps while at Stamford Bridge. He also played for the full England team. Rangers signed him for £85,000 in 1975 and, though normally a midfield player, he has from time to time played as a central defender.

GERRY FRANCIS (Midfield). Gerry has once again won his battle against injury and is back in the Rangers' side. He made his League debut for the club back in 1969 and, during Don Revie's era, he was introduced to the England team. He was made skipper of his country, and had collected 12 caps, when he was hit by a succession of injuries a couple of years ago.

GLEN ROEDER (Defender). Rangers paid a club record £250,000 to sign Glen from Orient last summer. He had been an established member of the Orient defence for three years and at the end of last season he played for England "B" on their Far East tour.

MARTYN BUSBY (Midfield). Rangers sold Martyn to Notts County for £35,000 in 1976 and then had to pay £80,000 to buy him back again a year later! Q.P.R. was his first club and he made his League bow for them in 1970/71. In 1975/76 he spent a short loan period with Portsmouth.

DON SHANKS (Midfield/Defender). Versatile Don has played at full-back and in midfield for Rangers this season. Once an apprentice with Fulham, he was released in 1970 and went to Luton. He made 90 League appearances for the Hatters and was transferred to Q.P.R. for £40,000 in 1975.

CLIVE ALLEN (Midfield). Clive has only recently completed his apprenticeship with the Rangers and is playing in the League side for the first time this season. He scored his first goal at Aston Villa a couple of weeks ago.

KARL ELSEY (Midfield). Rangers spotted Karl playing in Welsh junior football and signed him a few weeks ago. He has already been blooded in their First Division side.

MICK WALSH (Forward). Mick joined Rangers from Everton hours before this season's transfer deadline in a straight swap for Peter Eastoe, both players being rated at around £300,000. It was Mick's second big-money transfer in less than a year for he left Blackpool for Everton for £325,000 last summer. The elevation to First Division football earned him his recall to the Republic of Ireland team and he gained his fifth cap against N. Ireland this season. Mick made his Blackpool debut in 1973/74 and was on three occasions their leading scorer.

PAUL MCGEE (Forward). Paul is another Republic of Ireland international, with five caps. He joined Rangers from Sligo Rovers last season for £25,000.

PAUL GODDARD (Forward). Paul came through from the juniors and earned his first chance in the senior team last season. He has recently been holding a fairly regular place and is now one of the club's leading scorers.
